BATTERED AXIS KEPT ON RUN IN EGYPT

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Another strange coincidence . . . or maybe it's mental telepathy: I was sitting at my desk wondering what had become of the old bell buzzard . . . the door of the office opened and in walked a man who said:

"I don't know whether it's worth a news item . . . but they told me I ought to stop in and tell you about it . . . I just saw the famous bell buzzard down on Rattlesnake Creek, not far from Centerfield."

Naturally, I was a bit startled . . . and very much interested . . . and asked him to tell me all about it . . . he said he had seen it several times while he was fishing . . . was close enough to see the bell . . . looked like a miniature row boat . . . he guessed it was about two inches long . . . and said it sounded "something like a sheep bell."

It was Clarence Johnson, of Dayton, who took the trouble to stop in and report on the old bell buzzard . . . he has been going fishing down on Rattlesnake . . . comes over here and stays week ends with Elmer Smith of the Greenfield Pike . . . his favorite fishin' hole, come to think of it, is down in Charles S. Hire's boyhood stamper ground . . . must ask him if he ever saw or heard the bell buzzard when he was ramblin' along the creek as a kid.

There have been a lot of theories about the bell buzzard . . . as a matter of fact, I imagine there are a good many of them . . . I've heard of them ever since I was a kid . . . but they seemed to have disappeared during the past several years . . . I suppose someone caught a young buzzard and tied a bell around its neck and let it loose . . . it's against the law to kill the repulsive looking scavengers, you know.

A day or two ago Walter Craig was called to the door at his home in response to ringing of the bell by a very small boy.

As soon as he opened the door the youngster started giving him a sales talk so fast and furious that most of it could not be understood.

Walter did not know what it was about but finally asked: "How much is it?"

"Twenty-five cents," responded the boy, who pocketed the 25 cents, hurriedly, expressed his thanks and disappeared.

Next day Walter was handed a ticket showing that he had joined the Central P-T. A.—much to his surprise.

Walter got a big kick out of that . . . he's the kind of fellow who likes kids . . . so he told this story:

Little Robbie Hagler . . . he's the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hagler . . . came into the store with a Halloween mask pushed conveniently back on top of his head . . . and an impish grin on his face . . . he said: "Hello Walter. I bet you can't guess who this is."

BARBARIC THREATS MADE BY JAPS NOW

'Reprisals' Against British Prisoners Promised

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Berlin radio said today it had been announced officially in Tokyo that Japan would impose "reprisals against British prisoners of war in Japanese hands in case the British government does not change its attitude" toward German captives.

Presumably the Japanese were talking about the recent Nazi chainings and British reprisal chainings of prisoners, all of which was started by the Germans, who charged the British bound the hands of Nazis captured during the Dieppe raid and another against Sark Island.

WOMEN TO BE ENROLLED AS AIR RAID WARDENS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Thousands of women will be enrolled as auxiliary air raid wardens to increase the daytime effectiveness of Ohio's civilian protection program.

Ralph H. Stone, state defense director, said nearly 300,000 women were needed in addition to those already serving.

TROPICAL HURRICANE HEADS FOR FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Storm winds that may exceed 75 miles an hour and thus rank as a full-fledged hurricane today tore at the central Bahama Islands and headed toward the lower east coast of Florida.

Warnings of an approaching blow were hoisted from Melbourne to Key West, and the Miami area appeared to be in the exact path of the storm.

The storm, centered in early morning at Long Island in the Bahamas, was moving west or northwest. If it maintained this course, it would pass in the vicinity of New Providence Island, where the Duke and Duchess of Windsor reside in Nassau's government house.

Miami's public schools were ordered closed for the day and a high school football game was cancelled. Wartime censorship of storm news was lifted to permit notification of all who might be threatened.

The storm apparently made up more rapidly than usual and the customary two or three days' advance notice was missing.

'Victory Coalition' Looms in Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A movement developed on Capitol Hill today for a Republican-Democratic "victory coalition" to proclaim a holiday on politics and drive toward the one common aim of winning the war.

The alliance would throw the power of both parties behind will remember the implications it contained," said Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader.

Another leading Republican, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, proposed the coalition, saying congress should create a "unified committee on war cooperation."

But while unity in the war effort appeared to be generally applauded, political observers watched for a possibility that house Republicans and conservative Democrats might develop a

BLACKOUT FAILURE LEADS TO TROUBLE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Charges of violating blackout regulations will be filed against at least five persons or firms in the city's first crackdown against such infractions, Paul R. Gingham, Columbus Civilian Defense commander, asserted today.

Gingham said the violations occurred during last Friday's blackout of metropolitan Columbus which an Army officer termed "disappointing."

U.S. Troops Reinforce Marines in Solomons

These U. S. Army troops are shown boarding a huge camouflaged transport at a New Caledonia port before leaving to reinforce the marines in the Solomons. The doughboys apparently arrived in time at the Solomons to take part in the defense against the all-out attempt of the Japs to recapture the islands. While U. S. marines and soldiers, dive bombers and destroyers banded away at the invaders west of the Guadalcanal air base, Jap vessels landed new troops to the east. This is an official U. S. Army photo. Nazis Fear Next Allied Blow As Disaster in Egypt Grows

By E. C. DANIEL

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—With Rommel's armies fleeing westward in Egypt under a threat of annihilation by the British Eighth Army, the Axis showed signs today of a wary watch for new Allied ventures which might imperil its position elsewhere in Africa and on the Mediterranean.

"The enemy is showing increasing uneasiness regarding Allied movements to the South and West of Libya," the London Daily Telegraph commented.

For a third successive day the German radio talked, without confirmation, of a concentration of United Nations warships and transports at Gibraltar, estimating that 125 naval vessels had reached the small harbor there.

Previous Axis reports said that American troops had reached Gibraltar.

The Nazi controlled Paris radio also said that additional RAF squadrons had arrived at Gibraltar.

Earlier this week the German commentator, Rear Admiral Luetzow, discussed on the Berlin radio the possibility of Allied operations against North Africa, led by Americans, and a movement against Casablanca, from the west, that is, the Atlantic. Vichy France and Spain divide the control of North Africa. Casablanca is in French Morocco.

At the same time Axis military commentators have been reporting a gathering of Allied forces in the Chad area, due south of Tripoli, Libyan capital, and have noted the presence of a fighting French force at Kufra Oasis, 400 miles south of Derna, Eastern Libya.

The London Evening Standard summed up the current concern of the Axis as follows:

"All Africa may soon be at stake. Such is the fear in Berlin and Rome."

Anything less than complete destruction of Rommel's forces might be taken as an Axis victory, the Evening Standard commented.

Hollywood, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Film Industry, which didn't coin the word colossal but made it famous, could use the term today to describe its state of befuddlement as it awaited clarification of the new wage-ceiling order, which kept scores of highly-paid movie employees from receiving their weekly paychecks.

The seven major studios tied up the salaries of their top-bracketed actors, producers, writers and directors as batteries of lawyers studied the government's decree, which, as it is interpreted here, bars anyone from receiving more wages than he did in 1941, or more than $25,000 net, whichever is the larger sum.

There are scores—perhaps hundreds—in the studios who already have netted at least $25,000 so far this year, and one point adding to the puzzlement of the industry is whether they can be forced to fulfill their contracts at no added compensation.

Allied Force on New Guinea Continues To Push Nips Toward 'Last Stand'

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Hard-pressed American forces stabbed at bolstered Japanese troops on Guadalcanal's broadening battlefield today in a two-pronged attack that pierced deeper into one flank and threatened another.

To the west of the island's American-held airbase, marines and soldiers successfully attacked enemy positions, the navy reported yesterday, slaying 357 Japanese and capturing 12 37 mm. light artillery guns, three field pieces and 30 machine guns.

The offensive drive on November 3 gained the American troops two additional miles of jungle. But a similar attempt to smash enemy concentrations to the east of the airfield on the following day was repulsed.

The Nipponese forces, put ashore on the coast east of the American base five days ago under cover of darkness, were reinforced by additional night landings November 3 and 4, the navy explained.

It was this strengthened force apparently which the Americans attacked at dawn on November 4 and met what the navy termed "an initial repulse."

"Marines are pressing their at-

A letter written by Lieut. Franz Hoskins, 27, formerly of Tacoma, and second in command of the submarine, told the story.

Heading the "surgical staff" of amateurs was a chief pharmacist, mte, the only one of the five who had previously witnessed an operation.

"It was operate or certain death for the patient had a temperature of 106 degrees," Hoskins wrote. "It took us two and one-half hours and now the patient is convalescing in great shape."

U. S.-Jap Naval Standing

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—One hundred Japanese warships, comprising battleships, air craft carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, have been sunk by United Nations forces in the Pacific, compared to the announced loss since Pearl Harbor of 29 American naval vessels in these categories, a survey showed today.

Japan had an estimated 260 fighting craft prior to Pearl Harbor, best available figures indicate, in addition to approximately 38 more still on the ways.

At the same time, the United States Navy included 344 important ships-of-the-line, with about 347 more building.

UTTER DISASTER FACING HITLER IN DESERT WAR

Nazi High Command Reported Attempting To Fly Troops To Bolster Fleeing Force

PRISONERS ARE CAPTURED

Russians, Meanwhile, Open Attack in Stalingrad and On Caucasus Area

By ROGER D. GREENE

British tanks pursuing the broken Axis armies in Egypt were reported rolling along the Mediterranean coast today within striking distance of Matruh, 104 miles west of El Alamein, while dispatches from Greece said Adolf Hitler had sent a fleet of 500 planes to rush fresh troops across the sea in an attempt to avert utter disaster.

A British communique said the triumphant 8th army was attacking Axis rearwards well beyond El Daba, 33 miles west of El Alamein.

German field headquarters acknowledged that the battle was raging "in the area of Fuka and Matruh."

Fast-moving British armored forces were said to have advanced 50 miles since breaking through the enemy's defenses on the El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria, with the fight raging inside and behind the Axis lines.

Frontline dispatches indicated that the struggle was now rapidly degenerating into a race across the desert, with the British in hot pursuit of the beaten Axis columns.

On the battlefield, Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery declared the British 8th army had already won "complete and absolute victory" over Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's battered legions.

A bulletin from British headquarters this morning announced:

"The eighth army continued its pursuit of the enemy throughout yesterday."

"Our armed forces are in contact with the enemy rearwards well west of El Daba. A minimum of 4,000 more prisoners were taken during the day."

This made a total of at least 13,000 German and Italian prisoners rounded up so far in the 14-day-old British offensive as the 8th army swept through Axis minefields and rolled back the German-Italian invaders along a 40-mile front.

"A further large number of Italians is being rounded up in a southern sector of the battlefield, where they appear to have been abandoned in the desert by the German mechanized formations," the British communique said.

The communique said the commander of the Italian Trento division and his chief of staff were among the prisoners and reported at least 59 more Italian and 20 more German tanks were captured yesterday.

Dispatches reaching Ankara, Turkey, from Greece said Hitler was desperately attempting to bolster Rommel's shattered forces with troops hurriedly shifted from the Russian front via transport planes across the Mediterranean to North Africa.

These reports said four trainloads of German soldiers from the eastern front passed through Athens on Monday and transport planes had been shuttling them across the sea since Tuesday.

Informed quarters in Ankara said Hitler, realizing his armies in Egypt were in peril, had even appealed to Tokyo for help in the form of a Japanese naval attack on Madagascar or South Africa which might force the British to divert strength southward.

Tokyo turned down Hitler's appeal, it was said, explaining that Japan lacked the necessary naval strength because of punishment inflicted by the U. S. fleet in the Pacific in recent months.

The German radio for the third successive day broadcast reports of a great Allied armada massing at Gibraltar, across the nar-

RE-APPRAISAL OF REAL ESTATE BOOMS FOR 1943

Heavy Job Will Confront New County Auditor Coming Year

One of the big jobs confronting Ulric T. Acton, new Fayette County Auditor-elect when he takes office in March of 1943, will be the reappraisal of all real estate in Fayette County.

This big task comes every six years and will mean that appraisers of real estate must visit every place of property in the city and county to make the reappraisal.

Usually one or more appraisers are named in each district, and the work is carried forward in the spring or summer, requiring the attention of many persons for sometime.

A new set of books will be necessary, and this clerical work must be done in the County Auditor's office, necessitating the attention of several persons for a number of weeks.

Usually men who have a good idea of values are chosen in each district, and appraisement made with the knowledge that such valuation must stand for the next six years.

It is expected that under the 1943 reappraisal valuations may be somewhat higher than those made five years ago.

EXPLOITING PATRIOTISM
A representative organization of a number of the country's principal merchandising systems, recently issued a warning against rackets which exploit patriotism. As it said, "High public patriotism and war emotion have created ideal conditions for flourishing rackets. Such schemes have become so widespread and misrepresentation so flagrant, that numerous government agencies, including the Navy Department and the OGD, have issued statements to stop them. Examples in point are publications describing themselves as 'official' Army and Navy organs and seeking either subscriptions or other financial support from business men. In some instances, advertising salesmen have paraded as active service officers. These publications are private profit-making enterprises—definitely not 'official' and definitely not worthy of support."

That warning should be widely publicized. The racketeers will seek prey in the small towns as well as the great cities—and, no doubt, make special efforts to "clip" the merchants. The nation's retailers have been extremely active and cooperative in helping any honest, worthwhile charitable or civic endeavor. They give freely of both their time and money when any job needs doing. And the racketeers will regard them as easy and profitable victims.

The only protection the business man has is to check carefully when asked for funds. He should be particularly cautious if an unknown publication is involved. If he finds evidence of racketeering, the law enforcement authorities should be informed and legal action taken if possible. The racketeers who are attempting to cash in on American patriotism are conscienceless and shrewd—and all businesses and individuals must be on the alert if they are to be stopped.

THE WRITING ON THE WALL

The writing on the wall is everywhere now, for anyone to see—regimentation. Regimentation of jobs, of income, of living conditions, of time, thought, and action.

This is one of the demands of total war in seeking the greatest efficiency and production from available man and woman-power. How to so gear output that our standards of living at home will remain "American" and our armed forces will be supplied on time with all the un-

Congress Makes Gold Rush Official
GRASS VALLEY, Calif.—An act of Congress has approved a brief but lucrative gold rush back in 1940.

A huge earth slide forced 50 men of a dam construction crew into temporary idleness—and at the same time it revealed some interesting earth and rock. The men started panning it, found gold and in two days took out $30,000 worth.

But the area was "withdrawn" government land and it took special legislation to straighten things out. Now the men can legally enjoy their share-and-share-alike earnings of $600 each.

Today's Horoscope
Today's birthday children have sunny, easy-going dispositions, and are fond of humor and pleasure. They should develop more drive and push, or they will not be successful. They are easily discouraged and need inspiration. They should choose mates who will give them that added determination to win out. Love and domestic affairs will prosper in the next year, and they will receive benefits, but should guard against loss through fraud or theft, particularly when traveling. A keen intellect will be possessed by the child who is born on this date, but although thoughtful and philosophical, he or she may be somewhat inclined to extravagance. Much good nature is indicated, but also a sharp temper.

precedent needs of global warfare, is the problem.

In theory, it is protection through equalization, "temporary" control of individual activity for the country's good in time of emergency.

While our people willingly accept "temporary" restrictions as a necessity of war, the thing to remember is that word "temporary." We must not drift into a mental attitude that will pave the way for permanent regimentation. That isn't the kind of people we are.

What we have, what we are fighting for, is our roots, growing deep into the soil of free enterprise and free thinking, and the privilege of minding our own business. That privilege is what we must go back to, after the war, if freedom as we have known it is to survive in America.

Doctor Says Rationing Sugar and Meat May Benefit Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE PROGRAM for keeping the average civilian fit in wartime falls into three interrelated divisions: (1) mental hygiene, (2) nutrition, (3) muscular fitness. I discussed the first yesterday.

Nutrition for a large part of the world consists in getting what Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

they can find to eat—not what appeals to taste or appetite or what is best nutritionally. In North America we are getting a little taste of this with sugar rationing and meat rationing, but not enough to disturb us. It is difficult to imagine that the time will come when we cannot get a complete and balanced diet.

I wish the sugar rationing had been a little more drastic and every nutritionist believes that the meat rationing, if kept to two meatless days a week, will be good for us. There are a good many tons of excess fat being carried around by the citizens of North America which sugar rationing would have helped to get rid of.

In Germany after the last war the death rate from high blood pressure, diabetes and Bright's disease remained at a very low level for years, which was ascribed to the fact that the Germans had previously been over-eating. Due to their enforced fast they lost weight and the lack of meat took a burden off the kidneys, and since high blood pressure, diabetes and Bright's disease are associated with overweight and too much protein, the deprivation really prolonged life.

Meatless Days Healthful
I am by no means a vegetarian, and as readers of this column know, I have advocated meat as a harmless and energy-yielding food. For hard workers I am inclined to believe it is necessary every day. But most Americans probably eat too much meat and

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE
MARY WAS to get her chance to work with the F. B. I. sooner than she had dared hope. Connie stopped her the next afternoon as she came into the department. She crossed to the lead girl's desk and bent over the application forms spread out there, thinking Connie wanted to discuss one with her. But, although Connie appeared to be doing this very thing, her words, low and guarded, were of something else. "Congratulations," she said. "You've had a promotion, Mary. Although a private one. You're to check over all the applications each day for discrepancies. It's for the F. B. I. Please don't look as if I'm telling you anything of interest."

"No," Mary obediently controlled the excitement in her eyes. "Any detail that looks suspicious to you in any way, no matter how small, make a report of it to the F. B. I. each night. I will also see that you get applicants who have had previous difficulty in their sign-up routine before they get to us."

"How do they know I'll be able to do this for them?" Mary worried.

"I vouched for your capability," said Connie. "And they X-rayed your personal history and records. By this time they know the date and hour you lost every baby tooth."

Mary attacked the new job with determined zeal. If there was a saboteur among those long lines of men that passed through the swinging gate into personnel, she would find him. She would find the faulty link in his application if she had to break it down like a Chinese puzzle. It was delicate work, tedious, checking, re-checking every item in the complicated forms. But each time she found a discrepancy, it was well worth the labor. She made an eager note of it. She was thrilled with the mission entrusted to her. She was helping to unravel the web of intrigue that had caught all Nordex as well as Bruce Martin in its loathsome mesh!

She stumbled into the apartment that night too weary to talk, even had she been allowed to. Fran, hardly noticed her silence. She was bubbling with news. She had been to Toinette's bungalow again.

"Not that I wanted to," she grinned. "Toinette gathered me into her wake when she left the sound stage and I found myself there. She's tremendous, that gal. I can understand how—" She broke off abruptly and tried to cover her thoughtless break.

"How Bruce could be carried along by the momentum?" Mary smiled.

"Exactly," Fran cried. "She fixes you with those thousand-watt orbs and tells you what you're going to do and before you know it, whizzt zambb boo—you're there! Well, anyway, what was I saying?"

Mary laughed as she laid two pieces of cinnamon toast onto the tray of the broiler and pushed them into the oven.

"Darling, if I ever murder you," she murmured, "it will be while you are dithering around before the climax of a story."

Fran filled the tea ball while she talked. Toinette had had a honey of a row with her publicity agent while Fran was there.

"Link Jackson?"

"That's the baby. And he's one hombre she can't maneuver, if you want my private opinion."

"I should think she could fire him," Mary remarked.

"Well, maybe he knows where the body's buried. Anyway, he was about two and a half sheets under the gabby, and began to talk about how he couldn't get the studio to lift her option." Fran chuckled, remembering the scene. "Whee! It gave fireworks and I don't mean sizzlers. Toinette shouted, what was wrong with her acting? Linkie said, it wasn't her acting; it was her parents. They came from the wrong country. Her name was wrong."

"Oh-oh," Mary carried the toast to the table with a smile of understanding. "French actresses—at least from some parts of France—won't be so popular in this war as in the last."

"That's it," Fran began to eat with her usual enthusiasm. "Boy, you should have heard what she called him! It was educational, but not cultural. She yelled at him that if he was half the agent he thought he was he'd get that option lifted—with a raise. And what d'ya think he came back with?"

"What?" Mary asked quietly.

"He said real soft and insinuating. 'If you were half the woman you think you are—you'd get another name—a nice American name.'"

"Like Martin," Mary whispered.

"What did she say?"

"She didn't say anything," chuckled Fran. "Just started throwing things at him and he ran out and slammed the door."

They ate in silence for a few minutes. Then Fran went on soberly. "But she was worried. I'll bet you my chances of heaven that he's got his mind set on her marrying Bruce."

Mary was skeptical. "How could an agent have that much influence?"

"Well, she tried to explain to me afterwards," Fran said slowly. "You see, he found her in some honky-tonk dive and built her up. Her career means everything in the world to her—and he has her sold on the idea that he can still make her or break her in pictures."

Mary nodded slowly. Fran pleaded, "Can't you tell Bruce Martin that? You wouldn't let him walk into a trap, would you? I think it's your duty as a friend to—"

But Mary was firm. "It would look like sour grapes," she said quietly. "I love Bruce. I'm trying to do all I can to help him. But if he decides to marry Toinette—that's the way it will be."

At the end of Mary's third day of work for the F. B. I., Danver called her into his office. Mary went with sinking heart. In spite of her enthusiasm, her hopes, she felt the reports she had turned in were pitifully inadequate. She expected he had sent for her to tell her this, and drop her from the assignment.

But Danver's hearty greeting reassured her. "You're doing a good job, Miss Dexter. You've managed to pick up several very interesting items. I wanted to talk to you about one of them—a man called Joe Banks."

He shoved Mary's report across his desk and Mary glanced at it.

"I remember him!" she said eagerly. "I signed him up myself. He was an easy sign-in, had all his information well in mind—too well in mind, I thought." She laughed. "I didn't know whether or not I was just being super-sensitive, because I was helping the F. B. I., but so many of the applicants are vague. And when he was so well prepared with his data—and then made those odd mistakes about Middleton, Missouri—"

"How did you know there was no town square or statue in Middleton?" inquired Danver.

"It was 20 miles from my home town," grinned Mary. "I didn't tell him that. I said I'd never been to the middle west and loved to hear about it. I'm afraid I wasted some company time playing detective."

"As a matter of fact, you didn't," Danver's quick fingers pulled up a sheaf of telegrams. "Most of his reference names are fictitious. We are still checking his records and finding some odd coincidences."

"I am telling you these things for a purpose, Miss Dexter," he said slowly. "If the man proves to be, as certain things indicate, a member of a group attempting to enter the plant for subversive purposes, you might be of help to us. Would you be willing to co-operate with the F. B. I. in a more active, perhaps more dangerous, capacity?"

Yanks No Softies When They Go to War

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Wide World News Service)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — One hour a day of physical training, five days a week, will in a few months convert the average American young men into a physical husky meeting army standards generally.

This is shown in the results of universal physical training for men at Indiana University, a war measure inaugurated this year at Indiana and other leading American universities. The Indiana work reveals some special weaknesses in the average young man, in shoulder and upper arm strength and in endurance.

The first five months training of nearly 3,000 men on the five-day, one-hour plan is analyzed by Dr. Karl W. Bookwalter, assistant professor of education. The men worked hard enough in each hour to be tired at the end.

They ate more heartily, yet there was no change in total weight. Fat men lost some flesh and scrawny ones gained. The two balanced each other.

But although unchanged on the scales, after five months, the total weight assayed decided gains in quality. The men were harder and stronger.

These men made the best gains in the place where they were weakest, the upper arms and shoulder area. But after five months their shoulders had not come up to army standards of strength, and the training was altered to do this by including more work on the parallel bars and the flying rings.

In speed the Indiana students surpassed the army standards. The speed training was in the 60-yard dash and in the 440-yard dash.

This superiority in running speed failed to help much for hiking for the men were below requirements in walking two miles. The reason, Prof. Bookwalter said, was largely because they had not been given long walks. The two mile walk and progressive hiking were added to the training to bring up this deficiency.

On the whole, after five months, the men were up to most of the army standards. Their endurance, as shown in hiking, was one of the deficiencies. To bring up endurance Prof. Bookwalter says will take a long time. That sort of training he says, ought to start in high schools.

High school boys as shown by average records have been receiving only 11 hours a year of systematic physical training. This can be increased, Prof. Bookwalter says, without adding undue strain on the high school age boys.

ROBBERS TO GO TO JAIL AND NOT ARMY IN FUTURE

CLEVELAND, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Robbery offenders facing Judges Frank S. Day and Charles J. McNamee no longer will be given an opportunity to escape sentence by joining the Army.

Reason for ending the practice, the Common Pleas judges said today, was that word had spread among young criminals that they could commit robberies without fear of imprisonment.

It has had far more earth-shaking effect than any other state, with Washington, Utah and New York following in that order.

Washington at a Glance

By Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON — When a wartime censor warns his government of the dangers of too much secrecy he certainly conveys a hint that it's being overdone by somebody.

U. S. Senator Byron Price occasionally finds it necessary to do so, however. Official reticence, if overdone, he stated in a recent public broadcast, "may lead to widespread distrust and apprehension among the people."

Elmer Davis has said approximately the same thing, but Elmer's directorship of the Office of War Information is in a different classification from Byron's censorial directorship. Elmer's job is quite largely in the nature of a publicity agent's. There's news of a kind that he outright wants to circulate, which is what makes him an information director. For dope on current events, curious folk are told, consult Elmer and he'll inform 'em correctly. A censor's stunt essentially is hush-hush.

Anyway, congress, as well as executives like Byron Price and Elmer Davis, is beginning to complain of the suppression or delay in the disclosure of unsatisfactory tidings from our fields of actual fighting. In the lower legislative chamber, for example, Representative John M. Costello of California, a member of the military affairs committee, and consequently especially in touch with our national war effort, the other day mentioned a "growing lack of confidence" in Uncle Sam's releases concerning our activities.

In a Navy Day address Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia referred to phases of our censorship as "very foolish and unbecomingly." Apparently this remark wasn't intended to apply definitely to Censor Price, since the latter also thinks the hush-hush is being overdone. It's likelier that all the commentators are less critical of the civilian detail of war news preparation than of the commanders in direct charge of the fighting, who don't like to admit reverses and don't report 'em at all fully even to Washington headquarters.

Naturally nobody wants news to reach our enemies that'll be helpful to 'em.

It's pointed out, though that there are kinds of it that weaken their morale, and bother 'em like sixty.

Their story is that it isn't genuine news but democratic propaganda. Nevertheless they strenuously object to have it filtering into their respective countries, and impose penalties, up to killing, upon folk who risk listening to it over the radio.

There are Axis subjects, who accept the perils and go on listening, as is proved by their own wireless energetic pooh-poohing of the reports that reach 'em, regardless of consequences.

Illustratively the story evidently got through to Germany that Marshal Goering is profiting enormously upon war investments in the United States. If so, it goes almost without saying that he's doing it strictly under cover, but the tale clearly

Two Table Club Entertained by Mrs. Clickner

Mrs. Herbert Clickner extended her always charming hospitalities to the two table Thursday dessert club at her home on the Columbus highway.

Autumn flowers in vivid colors were in artistic decoration throughout the home, and the evening was one of delightful enjoyment.

For the serving of a most delicious salad course after the game, the gracious hostess seated her guests at the dining table, where a luscious bowl of fruit, radiant in its color combinations, centered the table. The course was most tempting, and the pleasures of the entire evening were prolonged around the table.

A lovely high score award was presented to Mrs. Forest F. Tipton in the club members, and a guest prize to Mrs. William Allen.

Others enjoying the evening were Mrs. Fred D. Woodard, Mrs. L. L. Pumphrey, Mrs. Walter Patton, Mrs. Jess Feagans and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

Alpha Circle Entertained by Mrs. Helfrich

Mrs. Robert Helfrich graciously threw open her home on Wednesday evening, for the meeting of the Alpha Circle. She combined hospitalities with Mrs. John Conner for the very delightful affair.

Fourteen members and two guests, Mrs. Wendell Whiteside and Mrs. William Himmelspace, participated in the evening's pleasures, perfectly planned by the two hostesses.

Mrs. Charles Reinke, the president, conducted the meeting and also presented an interesting paper on "The Health of the Runabout Child." She mentioned the effects of malnutrition stating that bad teeth, soft bones, poor eyesight, bad tonsils and adenoids, and flabby muscles were some of the common causes. Proper eating habits were also a part of the paper.

At the close, ten questions were answered and discussed by the members.

A very delicious course was served at the close of the evening, with the guests prolonging the social hour.

Russell - Porter Vows Solemnized In Columbus

Eliciting the good wishes of their many friends here and in Dayton, where the groom had resided, is the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Ada A. Porter to Mr. Fred F. Russell, of Dayton.

The quiet and simple ceremony was performed on Wednesday evening at half past six o'clock in the First Church of Christ, in Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Thompson were their only witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell will establish their home at 633 Yeoman Street in Washington C. H.

McNair Loyal Daughters Meet During Week

The Loyal Daughters Class of McNair Church met with Mrs. Emmett Backenstoe for the regular monthly business meeting, which was opened with a scripture reading, followed by a lengthy business session conducted by the president. Plans for a Thanksgiving Basket were made and Mrs. Harry Fichtorn appointed committee chairman to complete arrangements. It was decided to change the date for election of officers, and all members are asked to be present at the December meeting, when election of officers will take place. This will be necessary in order that the 1943 Class Calendar will be complete with names of new officers. Mrs. Harold Alshire and Mrs. George Lambert will be in charge of the committee for completion of the 1943 calendars. All members who have clothes that could be sent to one of the Mission Schools are asked to notify Mrs. Edward Kearns at an early date. Dress sizes 18 and 20, are particularly wanted.

Miss Ruth Brown was in charge of the devotionals, and her topic was "The Practical Duties of a Christian." The meeting was closed with the Missal Benediction.

During the social hour that followed a delicious dessert course was served in the dining room at one large table and two smaller ones. Mrs. Backenstoe was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Charles Keaton and Mrs. Harley Seyfang.

Two out-of-town members were present for the meeting. Mrs. Vernon Wingert, of Springfield, and Mrs. Marcus Graves, of Wilmington. Other guests included Mrs. Joe Grim, Miss Sharon Kay Kearns, Miss Judy Beatty and Marvin Lucas.

Lovely Party Given Ladies of Country Club

Despite the rainy day and undesirable weather, a most enjoyable time was provided the ladies of the Washington Country Club, when the fortnightly luncheon-bridge party was held.

A quantity of fall flowers in tasteful arrangements added to the attractiveness of the lovely club lounge and dining room, which more than accommodated the eleven tables of bridge.

The hostesses so adeptly planned the successful and pleasurable affair were Mrs. Max G. Dice, chairman, Mrs. C. D. Young, Mrs. Rose Hughey and Miss Dorothea Gaut.

Two long tables and several small round ones, were perfectly gorgeous in their beautiful and most artistic decorations. Large platters and baskets of colorful fruits and vegetables centered the tables, from where vines trailed the lengths of each. Large crinkly leaves of kale, green and red peppers added tasteful and unusual notes to the very unique theme. Gourds and squash were other notes of a fall decorative idea. The viands were of most tempting and seasonal delicacies and the gayeties of the hour were prolonged in the perfection of the pleasures.

An ideal afternoon for an indoor game of bridge combined with the cordialities, the progressions passed away altogether too fast. At the close of the game a most clever method of awarding the prizes was used. Arrows under each tablecover pointed to each winner, regardless of the scoring. Large jars of delicious apple butter was presented to each lucky person, sitting in the chair in a line of their table arrow.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ralph Bray, of Madison, Wis., and Mrs. Aubin Hedges, of Hillsboro.

Sewing Club
The "Marie Cook Webb" sewing club of the Chillicothe Daughters of Union Veterans, met at the home of Mrs. Ward C. Miller, 224 North Fayette Street, Wednesday for an all day meeting.

At noon, a covered dish chicken dinner was served to sixteen members, after which the members devoted the afternoon to sewing various articles for the war effort.

A short business meeting was held at 3:30 P. M., and after a luncheon of pie, cake and coffee the group left for Chillicothe.

Those attending were Mrs. W. E. Fox of Washington C. H., honorary guest, and the following members: Mrs. David Weaver, Mrs. Birdie Santee, Mrs. Charles Verly, Mrs. William Werner, Mrs. Elize Berthold, Mrs. Eva Riehle, Mrs. J. J. Grohe, Mrs. Cora Vore, Mrs. Essie Simms, Mrs. Lulu Thacher, Mrs. Bell Lewis, Mrs. Ina Truit, Mrs. Maude Mitchell, Mrs. James Watt and Mrs. Andrew Riehle.

WCS of Grace Church Holds All-Day Meet

Another successful Church Day at Grace Church was observed Wednesday, when the circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service combined in making the day one of exceptional pleasure, in addition to accomplishing several important matters of business.

The program opened at eleven o'clock with Miss Katherine Biehn playing two beautiful piano numbers, "Claire De Lune" and "Restless Leaves."

The impressive devotional period was led by Mrs. Allen White, using "Temples for Thy Indwelling."

Mrs. Mable Blessing had charge of the very interesting business session.

For the delicious covered dish luncheon at noon, the dining room was under the direction of Circle 6, with Miss Fanny McLean, leader.

The program was resumed following the luncheon, with Mrs. Frank Haines in charge, her topic "Temperance." A lovely piano number was played by Mrs. E. Kelley, followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. Haines and Mrs. Mable Blessing.

Mrs. Ralph Hays had a paper on "Education Children Against Narcotics," and Mrs. Jean Nisley, "The Local Church and the Liquor Problem." "Our Soldier and Sailors" was the topic of Mrs. Edith Scott's paper.

Mrs. Frank Haines told some of the highlights at the state conference of the W. C. T. U. held in Steubenville in October.

Matrons Class Entertained for Lovely Luncheon

A beautiful luncheon was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Walter Huffman when she assembled twenty-two members of the Matrons Class of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church and two guests, at her home at one o'clock.

The guests were seated at the dining room table for an exceptionally delicious two course luncheon, perfectly appointed, and carried out in an effective patriotic color scheme. A beautiful centerpiece of luscious fall fruit centered the table, flanked on both sides by handsome crystal candelabra holding red, white and blue candles and tiny American flags. The luncheon hour was prolonged by interesting and congenial visiting.

The meeting followed the luncheon and was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Glenn. Results of the supper held recently were discussed and found to be most gratifying. The club also made their Christmas plans for the boys in the armed forces. A Bible study closed the afternoon's session.

Mrs. Lewis Redd and Mrs. Alice Cory were guests with the club for the afternoon's many pleasures.

Men's Supper
Fifty-four men enjoyed the fortnightly supper and evening of cards at the Washington Country Club Thursday evening, for which Mr. Jack DeBolt, Mr. Harry Worman and Mr. H. B. Biehn were hosts. A menu of roast pork with barbecue sauce, and all the delicious accompanying dishes, was served by the club hostess, Mrs. Hazel Devins, and greatly enjoyed by the men. The usual game of cards proved a most entertaining time during the evening.

Buffet Supper
Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Lentz, of Yeoman Street, entertained Wednesday evening, with a buffet supper and included as guests Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bachman and son, George, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bachman and son, George, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eisenbrely.

The guests were seated at the dining table for the delicious three course menu. The centerpiece of the table was a cornucopia filled with a variety of fruits and bittersweet.

Hillsboro Luncheon
Miss Edith Gardner motored Mrs. Laura Julian, Mrs. Fred Creamer, Mrs. Alice Renick and Mrs. W. S. Paxson to Hillsboro, Friday, where they were luncheon-guests of Miss Gardner's cousin, Miss Margaret Chaney.

Miss Lucie Irby Charming Honor Guest at Party

Miss Lucie Irby, the charming and beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Irby, was the guest of honor at a delightful party on Thursday evening, in observance of her sixteenth birthday.

The affair was arranged as a surprise for the lovely young person, who has won so many friends here since moving from Georgia. The girls gathered at the home on Paint Street at seven o'clock, and took the honor guest completely unaware. A large array of prettily wrapped gifts were presented to her at this time.

A theater party at the Fayette provoked much gaiety, after which the guests returned to the Irby home for a lunch of sandwiches and soft drinks.

EVERY FAMILY TO BE ENROLLED IN WAR PROGRAM

Defense Council Here Is Asked To Appoint a Civilian Chief

The Council of Defense in this community has been asked by the Ohio Council of Defense, to appoint a Chief of Civilian War Service and to immediately launch the new "Block plan" of enrolling every household in the nation's war program.

The order, issued by State Defense Director Ralph H. Stone, sets into motion a plan to organize every neighborhood and mobilize every man, woman and child behind the various civilian war services.

Pointing out that the protection side of the civilian defense program has received greater emphasis, Stone said the state now intends to give attention to war interests, including nutrition, consumers' interests, housing, health, transportation and other projects.

"The Block Plan of community organization," he declared, "is beyond a doubt the best mechanism yet devised to enroll every household in the war effort, both for protection and war service."

He said that all local defense councils had been asked to appoint a Chief of Civilian War Services, who would direct that phase of the defense program. Under the war services head will be a Chief Block Leader, also to be appointed by the local defense council.

The Chief Block Leader will be authorized to name zone and sector leaders, responsible for definite geographic areas. They in turn will be asked to appoint Block Leaders, who will contact householders and family heads in a move to carry to the people the variety of programs developed by the local defense council to promote the war effort. This mechanism will be used to carry back to the community war leaders the opinions of the people regarding specific phases of the war effort.

Stone said "the Block Plan seeks to encourage a clearer understanding by all people of the reasons behind our civilian war efforts and to develop a neighborly spirit of cooperation for war service."

In this way, he added, "we expect to materially assist the armed services by consolidating the war efforts of business, industry, and agriculture on the home front."

WHS Gridders are Ready for Bexley

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—What idea of having eastern and western major leagues next season is as dead as a slow-footed Nazi in Egypt, but while it lasted it did show up one of baseball's greatest weaknesses—the guys who run the game. "We can't see the point of such statements as Sam Breadon's 'if ever we have come to that, let us lock the gates.'"

Baker's Half Dozen

Duke Coleman of Excelsior, W. Va., reports that when he covered a high school football game between Gary and Graham, Va., recently, he found that the Graham team was composed of six regulars and one substitute, all named Saunders. "They're all brothers and good enough to win four out of five games."

There's a report from Akron, O., about a high school coach who sent in one sub during a hot game and took out two players. He didn't discover the error until two plays had been run and when he finally sent in the eleventh man, his team was penalized for taking too many times out. In this connection, Jim Schlemmer of the Akron Beacon-Journal points out that Coach Rosy Starn of Kent State College was a bit smarter. Finding he had twelve men on the field, Rosy sent in two subs and while they were reporting beckoned three players to the sideline.

Nine of the eleven starters on Colgate's 1941 football team are in the armed forces and Hank Zittel, the big tackle, already has reached the Pacific war zone. Although the Navy Pre-Flight training program normally lasts 12 weeks, halfback Bill Schatzer and fullback George Benson of the Iowa Seahawks have been "graduated" to Flight Training after only ten weeks—and right in the middle of the football season, too.

Warnerites Edged Out By Pioneers

The Pioneers and Warnerites staged a nip and tuck bowling battle in their Industrial League Match on the South Main Street alleys Tuesday night before the Pioneers finally came out with an advantage in the 2685 to 2763 total score and two out of the three games. To add heat to the battle, the two teams were almost on even terms so far as handicaps were concerned.

The Pioneers took the last two games after dropping the opener by the margin of a single pin. The Warnerites lost the second game by only three pins and the last by 20 pins.

GRUDGE AND RUB GAME COMES UP FRIDAY NIGHT

Big Squad of Big Boys Faced By Little Toughies in Next To Last Tilt

The Washington C. H. High School Blue Lions took advantage of their last practice before the big gridiron contest with the Bexley Blue Lions Friday night.

The little Lion squad, of only 23 members, held a short but snappy drill Thursday afternoon before the "grudge game" with Bexley. When Head Coach Carlton Smith and his big squad of big boys from Bexley arrive here Friday night, they will be greeted by a little squad of little but tough WHS boys.

The Bexley school has 59 members on its squad this year. That will give them an advantage of having fresh boys to send in the game. However, in spite of this handicap, the WHS team is waiting for the time to get in there and fight.

The Bexleyites have met the WHS Blue Lions for the past three years and the home team has made a good showing at all of them. The first time the two Lion teams met, the Bexley Lions came out on top. The next year they tied and last year the WHS Lions handed them a drubbing by a 13-7 score. This was the first defeat the Columbus team had suffered in two seasons.

The Bexley boys have gone through this season so far with all wins except one tie. Wins have been taken by the Bexley team from Worthington (34-0), Logan (14-0), Arlington (18-0), Academy (31-8) and Westerville (46-7). They tied Grandview (12-12) two weeks ago and the WHS Lions defeated Grandview last week by a score of 7-0.

The Bexley line averages about 14 pounds heavier than the WHS line but the WHS team has played heavier teams practically every game this year. The Grandview game was the closest in weight, with both teams averaging about the same.

One of the WHS players mentioned that "the Bexley bunch hasn't played any team this year that has given them a half-way decent opposition... but when they take the field against us, they are going to have a tough ball game on their hands."

Coach Jerry Kissell told the Lions Thursday at the evening skill practice: "Things are coming around in pretty good shape and we will be ready to take on that gang tomorrow night. I want plenty of 'snap' out of you boys when you go out on the field Friday night."

The short practice Thursday night was just a pre-game warm-up. Punting, passing, practice kickoffs, signal calling and a short drill of play running occupied the boys' time.

A short pep meeting was held in the WHS auditorium Friday morning to get the high school students and the faculty in the right mood and spirits for the game. The WHS Band also took part in the meeting.

Football Not Slowed Up By Freshmen On Teams

BUCK OFFENSE IS STILL BEST IN MIDWEST

All but Two of 27 Scores by Ohio State Boys Have Been Made by Rushing

CHICAGO, Nov. 6—(AP)—Although Ohio State's Buckeyes suffered their first Big Ten defeat last Saturday, they continue to lead the conference in total offense, followed by the team that beat them, Wisconsin.

The Buckeyes have averaged 362.5 yards in conference play while the Badgers have made 290 yards a game through rushing and passing, the Big Ten Service Bureau reported today.

The Badgers' game with Iowa Saturday night will be the 20th in a series started in 1894. Wisconsin has won 13 and lost only six in the span. Earl M. Brown, Harvard end coach, will be among friends when the Crimson tangles with Michigan at Ann Arbor—he was a star high school athlete at Benton Harbor, Mich., and later won honors as end at Notre Dame.

Note to Minnesota—Indiana backs have returned 23 punts 328 yards. The Hoosiers have punted to opposing receivers only nine times, which were returned exactly 26 yards.

The first game between Northwestern and Illinois, in 1892, was called because of darkness with the score knotted 16-16.

Don Griffin, Illinois' fine junior back, plans to enter the Naval Air Service in February.

Great Lakes beat Purdue, 27 to 0, in 1918, with a long forward pass from Paddy Driscoll, now Chicago Bears' assistant coach, to George Halas, Bears' head man who now is in the Navy, starting the scoring for the sailors. Bruce Smith will be the Blue-Jacket's biggest threat as they again meet Purdue Saturday. Smith has gained 265 yards by rushing and 282 by passing, more than a third of the Great Lakes' total offense.

Of the 27 touchdowns Ohio State has scored in six games, all but two have been by rushing. The Buckeyes have been drilled long and hard this week for their meeting with Pitt... floodlights at the practice field were used for the first time.

talent by use of freshmen aren't borne out in a survey made by the Associated Press.

Taking 20 of the schools in the informal eastern sector, the southeast and the Rocky Mountain's Big Seven conferences where the yearlings this season have equal playing rights with upper classmen, it was discovered that the 1942 elevens are stronger on offense and weaker on defense than those same teams were a year ago.

As a double check, a similar survey was made of the games played this season and last by Big Ten, Pacific Coast and Southwestern Conference clubs, which do not use freshmen.

The 20 teams which now use freshmen participated in 113

WHS Lions Wear White For Bexley

Because Washington C. H. High School and Bexley High School have the same school colors, blue and white, and the football jerseys are also the same colors, the WHS team members have changed their colors to red, white and blue. They will wear the same jerseys they wore when they played in the Central Buckeye League two years ago. This change of jerseys also changed the numbers given the boys.

Following is the complete team roster with their new numbers:

Zoot-Suited Fighter Picked To Win Scrap

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Although Ray Robinson, Harlem's tap-dancing, zoot-suited fighter, is a 5 to 12 favorite to win his 38th consecutive professional bout tonight, approximately 10,000 fans are expected for his 10-round scrap with Vic Delicurti in Madison Square Garden.

It will be Robinson's second start in the middleweight ranks, having easily polished off Jake Lamotta recently.

Delicurti will weigh about 156 while Robinson will come in at about 144.

games before November 1 last year with an average score of 17 to 8. This season the same clubs had competed in 120 contests as they turned into November, with the average score 18 to 11.

A year ago the Big Ten, Pacific Coast and Southwest members had blocked and tackled their way to 132 decisions with the average score 17 to 11. This fall in 154 games, the mean has been 15 to 10.

"Every kid likes to run with the ball and it doesn't take much coaching to show him how to do it correctly," said Columbia Coach Lou Little in discussing freshmen footballers, "but it is different when it comes to defense."

Dick Adolph, star defenseman of the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey league, received a skull fracture in an exhibition game with the Detroit Redwings of the National Hockey league and will be out of action for a long time, perhaps all season. PANTHER GAME VIEWED AS TEST BY BUCK COACH

Badgers May Have Job Cut Out for Them When Iowa Passes Start Flying

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6—(AP)—

Coach Paul Brown of Ohio State regards his game with Pittsburgh tomorrow as a "big test," figuring that so much hinges on the outcome that it may decide the Buckeyes' fate in the Western Conference title chase.

"It takes a great team to come back after being counted out in one game," Brown explained, trying to wipe away the taste of defeat meted out by Wisconsin last week. "I think my team will bounce back and win—it means a lot to us."

Looking toward their three remaining games on successive Saturdays after the affair with the Panthers, the Buckeyes need a shot in the arm of confidence. They meet Illinois, Michigan and the Iowa Seahawks.

Although not underestimating the Panthers, Brown believed a victory would set up his boys for the crucial conference tiffs with the Illini and Wolverines.

An anticipated crowd of 40,000 would boost Ohio State's attendance mark to over 300,000 for the season.

Rounding out Saturday's program: Illinois at Northwestern—Although the Illini hold an edge of 17 wins against 15 for the Wildcats they have not gained a decision over the Purple since 1937. . . . Hapless Northwestern searches for its first Big Ten triumph in this 50th anniversary game with five regulars handicapped with injuries, including its ace offensive threat, Otto Graham.

Wisconsin at Iowa—The Badgers, flushed with an unbeaten record, should get its pass defense network thoroughly tested by Iowa's Tom Farmer. . . . It will be a question of the Hawkeyes stopping Sophomore "Crazy Legs" Hirsch.

Indiana at Minnesota—The Hoosiers, usually good for an upset each season, are pointing heavily for one against the Gophers.

Harvard at Michigan—Although the Wolverines' Tom Kuzma is rounding into shape after a spell with an injured ankle, he may be withheld from the Harvard encounter. . . . Michigan appears as sure on winning.

Great Lakes at Purdue—Lieut. Hinkle, whose Butler football teams used to serve as a trial horse for Purdue, puts his Big Bluejacket against the Boilermaker in his quest for a first personal victory.

The population density in North America is only about one-sixth that of Europe.

Ohio State Freshmen Meet Pitt Yearlings; Stars are Uncovered

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Ohio State University's football fans got a look today at the Buck "Stars of Tomorrow" as the school's freshman football team tangled with a squad of first-year gridirers from the University of Pittsburgh.

The game, a preliminary to tomorrow's meeting between the Pittsburgh and Ohio State varsities, marked the first time in Ohio State's modern football history that its frosh gridirers have competed against "outside" competition.

Ernie Godfrey, coach of the freshmen team, who has been around Ohio State football for more than a decade, says this year's frosh crop is one of the best.

One of the Buck frosh who promises to become a bright "star of tomorrow" is Lou "Chief" Groza, giant tackle from Martins Ferry, whom Coach Paul Brown describes as the greatest plackicker he has even seen.

Groza, an all-Ohio football and basketball player in high school, put on a placekicking exhibition before assuming his starting tackle position in the game.

Another standout is Tommy Phillips, a passing and running expert from Berea, whose scholastic performances won him the sobriquet of "Touchdown Tommy."

Phillips wasn't in the starting lineup, however, because of a bad ankle.

The starting backfield picked by Godfrey: Tom Jeffries of Youngstown, in Phillips' regular left halfback post; Joe Whisler, a rip-roaring fullback from Willard, the hometown of former Buck captain Jim Langhurst; Russ Wolfe, fleet-footed right half from Upper Sandusky, and Bill Doolittle, a quarterback from Mansfield.

The starting line: ends—Stan Dixon, Wyoming, O. Negro and Louis Holzapfel of Greenview; tackles—Groza and Charles Albright of Van Wert; Guards—Ed Burrus of Toledo and Warren Ambling of Parma, Ill., a brother of Martin Ambling of the Buck varsity squad; center—Wayne Caldwell of Springfield. The game was the first of

In New Guinea

On another South Pacific war front west of the Solomons, Japanese invasion forces were continuing to fall back in New Guinea under steady pressure of an Allied drive.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian command declared today that the ill-fated enemy assault which late in September had advanced to within 32 miles of the Allied Port Moresby naval base, had been pushed back well beyond the half-way point at Kokoda, about 60 miles inland.

Allied bombers also struck for the second successive day at enemy-occupied towns of Macbisse and Ailey in Portuguese Timor, northwest of Australia, and at the Japanese north shore New Guinea base at Salamaua.

The foe's Buin-Faisi area in the northern Solomons also was bombed again last night.

The navy disclosed that United States warships shelled Japanese positions on the north coast of Guadalcanal near Kokumbona the night of November 3-4.

Army aircraft also continued to assault Japanese troops and supply dumps in the same area without opposition.

Meanwhile, an appeal for a coordinated naval and army command in the South Pacific was voiced in Washington by Walter Nash, minister to the United States and the Pacific War Council from New Zealand.

Nash asserted in a radio broadcast last night that "it is imperative that the United States commanders — General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey — work in close cooperation."

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Wheat and corn prices rose a cent a bushel today to the best quotations in a month as the grain market reflected improved flour demand, large shipping business in cash corn and purchase by Ireland of 400,000 bushels of No. 2 yellow U. S. corn.

Mills were more active on the buying side in the wheat pit than for some time, according to flour brokers. This reflected flour business in most cases, they said. Flour market activity was believed to be the best since establishment of ceilings more than a month ago.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(P)—

Stocks with a peace-time rating gave the best account of themselves in today's market as the crack-up of the Axis forces in Egypt revived faint visions of a quicker ending of the war than most had expected.

Tardy buying based on the election results was reported. Light year-end tax selling persisted as a handicap.

Bonds and commodities steadied after early irregularity.

County Community Council is to Meet Monday

COUNTY SCHOOL ACTIVITIES TO BE CONSIDERED

Pot Luck Supper To Start Evening of Discussions At Wilson School

Plans had just about been completed today for the first of two annual meetings of the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association units and Community School organizations of Fayette County and county school officials at the Wilson School next Monday evening, it was said at the office of the superintendent of county schools, W. J. Hilty.

The affair, recognized as one of the most important meetings of the year for the people of the county, is to start off at 7 P. M. with a covered dish supper with the wives or husbands of the officers as additional guests.

These officers and school officials formed a permanent organization several years ago under the name of The Fayette County Community Council.

The purpose of the meeting, which is to follow the supper, is to "exchange ideas and coordinate the work of the several organizations (those represented in the Council) within the county, according to Harry Kessler, the Council president. Countywide school activities, designed to enhance the effectiveness of community enterprises, also will be discussed with a view to at least drafting an outline of a concrete program. Supt. Hilty, in discussing the coming meeting, pointed out that many problems born of the war will come up during the months ahead and he suggested that ways of solving some of them probably will be developed during the discussions.

Officers of the Council also are to be elected at this meeting and plans are to be made for the annual spring achievement program.

The meeting will be informal, Supt. Hilty said and added that, as in the past, the discussions "will prove most profitable."

There are 15 parent-teacher association units and community school organizations in the county and each has at least three, and most four, officers. These, together with the district superintendents and school principals, give the county a membership of nearly 100. How many will be able to attend the Monday night meeting is still uncertain, Supt. Hilty said, but he declared that in view of the fact that the council members are to bring their husbands or wives, as the case might be, plans were being made for a sizeable gathering.

The county school head emphasized that this meeting ranks among the most important on the school calendar and, thus, one of the most important to all the people of Fayette County outside of Washington C. H.

The school groups represented on the council and their officers follow:

MAN AND WOMAN DRAW 30 DAYS

Abandonment of Children Charged in Affidavit Against Pair

Mrs. Geneva Massie, 22, wife of Ray Massie, and George Beedy, 52, both of Washington C. H., facing charges filed in Juvenile Court by the woman's father, each were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail after a hearing before Judge Otis B. Core.

The woman abandoned her three children, one of them a babe in arms, October 18, according to the charge, and went to near South Charleston with George Beedy, father of six children, whose wife is working, according to the information brought to light at the hearing. They were taken into custody through the Sheriff's office last week, and had been in jail here since that time.

In sentencing the pair, Judge Core sounded a warning to others involving the abandonment of children.

Fayette County Boys With Armed Forces

Pvt. Jesse Lyon, Jr., who enlisted in the Ordnance Division is now stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Pvt. John Bennet Bryant has been transferred from Ft. Hayes, Columbus, to Camp Atterbury, Ind.

A. T. Harper, A. S., U. S. Coast Guards, has been transferred from Front Royal, Va., to Richmond, Conn., at the District Kennels. He is a trainer of dogs for army service.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Knisley, 422 West Elm Street, that their son, Pvt. Albert Ray Knisley, is stationed at San Francisco, California, U. S. Army.

Corp. Deward Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Shaffer, arrived Wednesday to spend his short furlough with his family. He is stationed at San Francisco, California, in the U. S. Army.

Pvt. Glenn E. Roberts has been transferred from Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, to the Medical Training Battalion, Camp Grant, Illinois. He was inducted into the army three weeks ago.

Robert W. Parkin, son of Rev. and Mrs. George B. Parkin, has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He is stationed at Camp Wolters, Texas, and will be transferred to Fort Benning, Georgia, in the near future.

Among the 60 men who enlisted in the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve at the recruiting station in Chillicothe during October, were four from Washington C. H., according to W. H. Donald, CEM. USN, recruit-in charge. They were: Eugene Dwight Beverly, Ohio Avenue; Buddy Dean Shaw, 1217 Rawlings Street; Charles Joseph Henry, 732 Market Street and Glen DeWitt Upperman, 709 John Street.

The recruiter declared "these men, by volunteering in the navy, will have ample opportunity to learn one of the 49 skilled occupations to keep our fighting ships in shape."

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Coates have just returned from a visit with their son, Pvt. Cecil Coates, at Ft. McClellan, Ala., where he is taking his basic army training. While in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Coates and their son, who was given a short leave to go with his parents, went to Birmingham and Atlanta, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Coates said they found their son in high spirits and good health. He had gained ten pounds in weight and told his parents he thought the army was "great." He was inducted in September. Mr. and Mrs. Coates said they saw several other Washington C. H. boys at Ft. McClellan but they did not remember their names.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE WARNS OF LOOSE TALK

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Associate Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme Court appealed to the nation last night to avoid "public controversies that might breed distrust or ill will between ourselves and our gallant comrades in arms."

George Spetnagel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spetnagel and a member of last June's WHS graduating class, is now in the U. S. Navy. Word just received from him says he has passed the last of his examinations and was sworn in last Friday. He is now a freshman in the University of New Mexico but does not know when he will be called for training in the Naval Air Corps, the branch of the service in which he enlisted.

SPECIAL SHOW TO BE GIVEN BY BAND AT GAME

Surprises Promised Crowd For 'Dad's Night' - Details Are Not Divulged

The Washington C. H. High School Band, under the direction of Paul E. Fitzwater, has arranged a special show for the half Friday night in honor of the fathers of the team members. The night will be the annual "Dad's Night" when the fathers are guests.

"The exhibition before the game will go off as usual but the half will bring a few surprises," Fitzwater said.

The peppy cheerleaders, Carol McCoy, Kate Knapp and Alma Jane Norris will also be on hand during the game to lead the many fans expected in cheers and yells to encourage the team.

UNION F. B. COUNCIL HOLDS DISCUSSIONS

Farm Bureau Program Is Explained to Gathering

Members of the Union Township Farm Bureau Council had gasoline rationing and the Farm Bureau program explained to them at considerable detail by W. W. Montgomery, the county's agricultural extension agent, when the November meeting of the Council was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Cavine.

Walter Engle, the Council chairman, conducted the business session and Mrs. Clara Campbell, the discussion leader, presented the question of meat rationing. A willingness to comply with any meat restrictions was expressed by members of the Council. The Council also voted unanimous support of the Cooperative League in getting the cooperative program on the air.

After the business session and program, refreshments were served by Ruth Engle, Lucinda Campbell and Lois Cavine.

The December meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Huchison.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR MWMA AS PETITIONS OUT

Plans for Expansion of Group To Have Strikes Outlawed Are Set in Motion

With a slate of officers formally elected and installed, the newly organized Militant Wives and Mothers of America today had under consideration plans for expansion.

Mrs. Amanda Paxson, whose recent letter to President Franklin D. Roosevelt was the incentive for the organization, is the first president. Mrs. Walter Craig is the vice president; Mrs. Grace K. Fox, the secretary; Mrs. Christine Bryson, the treasurer and Mrs. Herbert Cockerill, the recording secretary.

Mrs. Clarence Craig and Mrs. Ellis Bishop were named at the group's last meeting to circulate petitions, the opening wedge toward achievement of the main purpose of "getting strikes outlawed for the duration of the war."

One of the important objectives of the group, Mrs. Paxson repeated, was to "form a chapter in every city in the country." To this end, the charter members have started contacting friends in other cities, explaining the ideals and purposes of the organization and offering suggestions for forming new chapters. Mrs. Paxson said. Already, she continued, interest has been aroused in cities as far away as Louisville, Ky., and Sweetwater, Tenn.

Originally, the Militant Wives and Mothers of America was conceived as a sort of home front for sons and husbands in the armed forces who, they believed, were suffering for lack of equipment because of labor strikes. However, the president declared, the doors have been opened now, "because of the general interest shown," to all wives and mothers who have a militant attitude toward strikes. She made it plain that membership was not limited to women with sons or husbands in the service.

The petitions, addressed to "The President of the United States" and to "The Congress of the United States" have been put in circulation. They were presented at the Eber Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday night.

Mrs. Paxson said the next meeting would be held in the Paxson Building at 8:30 P. M. on November 18.

NEWS REEL FEATURE AT FAYETTE THEATER

Movies of New Guinea and Stalingrad To Be Shown

For the first time in months, a news reel is being featured in the advertising of a Washington C. H. theater.

The first films of General Douglas MacArthur, commander of the southwest Pacific war zone are to be shown at the Fayette Theater Friday and Saturday. The billing says the movies show the general on a tour of inspection through the jungles of New Guinea when the Yanks and Aussies are now chasing the Jap forces which previously had threatened their positions.

On the same reel, are the first movies of battle-battered Stalingrad with the Russian defense turning back the Nazi drive. The publicity sheet says the "opening chapter of history's greatest battle" is to be shown.

METHODISTS IN OHIO SEEKING PENSION FUND

Grace Church Starts Move To Raise $3,300 of Large Amount

A campaign is well under way in the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church to raise $1,000,000 for a pension fund for retired ministers, their widows and dependent children, and of the total amount $3,300 is to be raised by Grace Methodist Church in this city.

The drive for the fund is now under way, a meeting of the committee headed by Howard M. Bingham, having been held at the church Thursday night, and cards given out for the committee to proceed with their canvass.

Report will be made Monday night of the coming week, and final report next Thursday night.

So far liberal response has been made by many members of the church, and the fund is said to be mounting rapidly.

In the Wilmington District the amount to be raised is $82,000 and reports indicate that a large portion has already been subscribed.

MASONIC ELECTION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Stated Communication To Be Held Same Evening

The annual election of officers for Fayette Lodge of Masons scheduled for the Stated Communication meeting to be held, starting at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday in the Temple on South Main Street. Notification cards have been sent out by Robert P. Heath, the secretary, and Malcomb K. Evans, the worshipful master, urging all members to be present.

Word also is being passed around the lodge reminding the members to contribute to the George Washington Memorial Fund "so this worthy undertaking may be finished and Fayette Lodge may have a good record." The suggestion has been made that each member give $1 but there was no limit placed on the contributions.
